Outcome of the Programme

A lesson plan is a detailed description of the instructional strategies and learning activities to be performed during the teaching/learning process. Lesson planning is important because it helps teachers to make sure that the everyday activities that go on in their classrooms are providing learners with a good level of lasting progress toward what they want to achieve outlined in their sequence, as well as their individual education plans. An ideal lesson plan should contain at least four essential parts: teaching objectives, warming up activity, techniques and procedures that can be used to achieve the teaching objectives, and assessment to check whether the followed techniques and procedures have achieved the teaching objectives.
